RATES OF ADVERTISING: Twenty five cents per line. Advertisements un-ter the head of "For Sale or Bent," "Wanted," and," and "Personal," twelve and a balf cents per line.

All communications, whether on business or for publication, should be addressed to WM. J. MURTAGH. Proprietor, NATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN HAS TRUELATION THAN ANY OTHER MORNING PAPER IN THE DISTRICT OF CO. THURSSDAY MORNING......JUNE 10, 1875.

PERSONS LEAVING the city during the summer months can have THE DAILY NATIONAL REPUBLICAN sent to their address by mail, postage paid, and changed as often as they may require, by ordering it at this office. Terms: Sixteen cents per week, or sixty-six cents per month; invariably in advance.

TO-DAY'S WATIONAL REPUBLICAN.

With money worth remarkably high high rates of interest many of the taxpayers of the District have been willing to incur the penalties of not paying their taxes promptly and even of allowing their real estate to be sold after advertisement for non-payment of taxes, relying upon the equities of title to redeem it before the expiration of the legal limit of two years, by the payment of the required additional fifteen per cent. per annum. In other words it appears to have been advantageous to some of our citizens to use their ready money during the past six menths in available business transactions rather than for the payment of taxes. We allude to these facts in explanation of the large list of delinquent taxes advertised in the supplements and appendixes which accompany to day's issue of THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN. There are other reasons, however, why the list is so large, not the least of which is that it includes every item of unpaid taxes for ten years past. Under thel aw of Congress authorizing the publication of the list the Collector was required to include all back, unpaid, or overdue taxes, and it consequently embraces a clean balance sheet, so to speak, of the accounts of the old corporation, the Territorial government and the government by the Commissioners, with the citizens of the District. Congress was to some extent induced to pass the law providing for this publication for the simple purpose of effecting this definite and comprehensive balance of a series of accounts which have never been completely settle i, and the further delay in the settlement of which would not only be demoralizing but serve to complicate realty titles.

While the sale of property will bear hard upon many of the delinquents, it must be remembered that in no other way can governments be supported, and that the payment of taxes is one of the onerous duties which accompanies the many privileges of citizenship. It is also due to those who have promptly paid that the delinquents should be no longer accommodated.

An inference from this that the District is in any way crippled as regards its financial rescurces would be unjust. The truth is, the treasury was never in better condition than it is now, and under the discreet management of the present Commissioners there is every reason to believe that thi condition will continue.

The utmost leniency has been conceded to tax payers in the preparation of the list, it having been kept open fully five days after the law permitted it to be closed, and payments were received by the Collector, erasing the names of those who were able to take advantage of the generous opportunity afforded them to redeem their property from the revised proof slips. In a number of instances names and descriptions of property were chiscled out of the stereotyped plates after the folios on which they appeared had been prepared for the press.

The amount of manual labor required to present this extraordinary work as we present it to our readers this morning will be appreciated when it is understood that a large corps of clerks in the Collector's office was engaged in preparing the copy for weeks before it was sent to the printers. As will be seen, it fills more than fifty-two pages of our paper. In putting this large amount of matter in type, ninety-eight compositors-thirty-two in our own office, fourteen in the Brening Star office and fiftytwo in the Government printing officewere employed, on the average, eighteen hours out of each twenty-four for five days. In addition to our regular force of stereotypers, a relay from the force of the Baltimore Eun office was required. Our mammoth presses, including one of the largest, if not the largest, four-cylinder Hoe in the world, was kept con stantly at work for four days and nights and until a late hour this morning. An extra force of folders, supplemented by an additional folding machine and a corresponding number of packers, mailing boys, feeders, and reliefs for the engineers and stokers, were also at work for the same length of time.

Our city edition will be distributed this morning by means of wagons and other vehicles. This is absolutely necessary, as the carrier-boys are unable to carry it. For example, a boy who serves a route of one hundred subscribers will be supplied with our regular edition, supplements and appendixes, which in the blank paper would make more than three reams. weighing about fifty pounds to the ream.

It is not without a feeling of pride that we call attention to these facts, and while we acknowledge the friendly offices of our neighbors who have aided us, we think a careful examination of all the circumstances connected with this great enterprise will show that the mechanical facilities and the general appointments of THE NA-TIONAL REPUBLICAN printing establishment are equal to any ordinary emergency. and are unequaled by those of any similar establishment outside of the city of New York. Added to this, we rejoice in having a corps of employees composed of superior artists and workmen, whose loyalty and devotion to the interests of the business of the office has enabled us to give our readers the largest issue of a single copy of any newspaper ever printed in the United States, with a single exception, and to dit in the most perfect and acceptable

SILVER AND THE FRACTIONAL CURRENCY. The New York Daily Bulleti appears to have discovered at a late hour that the rate of silver is steadily declining. In a recent editorial the causes of the decline are briefly referred to, and the following statement is made : "Our own Govern-"ment stands committed to putting out " about $48,000,000 for fractional currency;

"and the feasibility of that operation de " pends upon the relative value of legal ten-"ders and silver, the chances in favor of "success diminishing as the value of silver

" fluctuates." There has not been recently any fluctuation in the value of silver, but there has been a continued decline, and the Bulletin would have been correct if it had stated that the chances in favor of the success of the silver project were thereby increased. The admission by that paper of a fact so clearly apparent could hardly be expected in view of its having, but a few weeks previous, requested the public to witness that was committed by the record to the declaration that the substitution provided in the specie payment act of the last session would utterly fail. With the exception of the conclusion of the Bulletin as to the 'chances of success'' (issue of subsidizing silver coin in substitution for fractional currency) its article on "the price of silver" is a good (n), and prepares the way for a graceful retreat from its hasty assumption of the impracticability of executing a law which time will show was enacted upon a thorough understanding of the situation.
